Copyright Memorandum

(Please Read Carefully Before Filling In)

There are two broad categories of copyrightable works: First, unpublished works; and second, published works. In general, the term of a copyright where the author is an individual is the life of the author plus 50 years; where the author is a corporation or other entity (or employee thereof) the term generally is 75 years.

The copyright notice for published material is: © 20____ (name of owner). This notice should be placed on the front cover or title page. The copyright notice for sound recordings is: ℗ 20____ (name of owner). This notice should appear on a label affixed to the sound recording at the time of first publication. Publication is defined by the copyright law as "the distribution of copies of a work to the public by sale or other transfer of ownership, or by rental, lease, or lending" and "the offering to distribute copies to a group of persons for further distribution." If registration is completed within three months of publication, additional remedies are available.
